Global Consulting Firm TSA turn to UniPhi for their project portfolio needs

Sydney, 13th September 2019 – UniPhi (Aus) Pty Ltd (UniPhi), a Sydney-based technology company,

UniPhi is proud to be partnering with TSA in their journey to implement our project portfolio management platform, now referred to as 'Athena' following configuration and customisation to meet TSA's needs. Since November 2022, Athena has been providing TSA's clients with a higher quality of service, as well as giving the project managers more time to devote to achieving positive outcomes. Furthermore, the software will be integrated into other TSA systems to create a comprehensive framework for information sharing.

Kevin Brennan from TSA shared his perspective, stating "The extensive scope of the UniPhi platform left a lasting impression on us. Coupled with the expertise exhibited by the delivery team, we are confident that this project will deliver the substantial benefits identified by TSA. This includes generating comprehensive lessons learned throughout the software's lifecycle, fostering knowledge sharing across the group. Ultimately, we anticipate that this knowledge will pave the way for cutting-edge machine learning insights into common project challenges, enabling our clients to pre-emptively address issues before they materialise."

Mark Heath from UniPhi added, 'Collaborating with TSA on this initiative has ignited a tremendous sense of enthusiasm within UniPhi. The professionalism, precise articulation of requirements, and unwavering support from senior management has been truly exceptional. We are eagerly looking forward to showcasing the tangible benefits that will result from this endeavour.'

We look forward to witnessing the growth and success propelled by Athena and can't wait to see the positive impact it will have on TSA's clients.

About TSA

TSA are a group of people who manage, consult and partner with industry professionals to radically improve public and private utilities and infrastructure through projects both big and small. Sometimes we help build, other times we advise. We always collaborate for an outcome with positive impact.

About UniPhi

UniPhi is on the front-line of innovative web and mobile solutions for project, portfolio and program management. The key difference, and the thing that makes UniPhi software unique, is that it supports all aspects of project work. UniPhi engages with all members of a project in a collaboration perspective, creating a common platform for hard data to meet conversations leading to smoother issues resolution while eliminating reporting burdens.
